

Topical Slimming With LPG Device

TOPICAL SLIMMING
WITH LPG DEVICE

Dr. Majid Ghayour Mobarhan

Nutritionist from the UK

► Smooth And Firm ◀

In addition to breaking down fat and removing excess fluid, treating cellulite with an LPG device also improves skin elasticity, strengthens muscles, and creates a more even appearance. It is because the muscles are also affected and strengthened when combining this treatment with an exercise program.

This treatment form also reduces muscle tension, and people who go through each session of a treatment will feel better.

Enhancing the sense of health will help maintain the diet and exercise program and thus increase topical slimming effectiveness with LPG.

► The Contraindications To This Slimming Method ◀

- Infection or skin rash
- Disease with an eruption of inflammation
  - Taking anticoagulants
  - Hematologic disease
    - Herpes
- Cosmetic surgery (medical certificate application)
  - Injection (wait two weeks)
- People with hypothyroidism, diabetes, or long-term corticosteroid therapy are less likely to respond to this treatment.

► LPG Treatment ◀

From the very first session, the skin will be revived! The face immediately glows; thanks to the reactivation of collagen, elastin, and hyaluronic acid, the skin is refined and more radiant. The results get better after each session. For a faster treatment outcome, sessions can be scheduled several times a week at the beginning of treatment (fibroblasts can be stimulated continuously). Topical slimming treatment with LPG is delightful. The settings are adjusted depending on the sensitivity of the skin. After the first few minutes, feel "cellular awakening" and speed up blood circulation. The skin will receive oxygen again and feel healthy.

Topical Slimming With LPG Device

▶ Topical Slimming With LPG Device ◀

LPG, also known as entomology or lipo massage, is a standard treatment preferred by both men and women to lose weight without surgery or side effects. This treatment is non-invasive and painless, breaks down the body's cellulite, and removes fat deposits to eliminate localized obesity and unwanted curves in the body. Lipomatic entomology LPG effectively treats cellulite in all areas, thighs, and buttocks, reducing sagging skin and localized fat.

▶ LPG Helps In The Following Ways ◀

- ▶ Reduces fat faster by removing fat & removing excess fluids.

Topical Slimming With LPG Device

- ▶ Defines body lines to make body shape more attractive.
- ▶ Muscles and skin are soft and transparent, resulting in a smoother overall appearance.
- ▶ Improves muscle tension, improves blood flow and lymphatic drainage, and leads to better sleep and skin radiance.

▶ LPG Process ◀

This process uses an FDA-approved machine to treat localized fat and redefine body lines.

This method is non-invasive and uses mechanical rollers in the target areas to massage and compress fat cells and accelerate fat release or lipolysis. This device's deep massage operation increases blood circulation and lymphatic fluids by up to 200% (manual massage increases blood circulation by 60%) and helps expel toxins and abnormal fluids. Lipomassage also produces collagen and elastin, which are essential for smoother, firmer, and younger-looking skin. This procedure is 100% natural and without the need for recovery, surgery, or side effects.